

Euclid Home

Our Vision

Euclid Home is a product of euclid.ai where we want to bring the most advanced automation technologies together into one single platform for homes. Euclid Home aims to integrate into a home in order to automate majority of operations required to maintain the house, starting from turning on the light when you enter a room till paying your electric bills at end of the month. Our system is how Android is to a phone, and infotainment system to a Car, it is an operating system for your home.

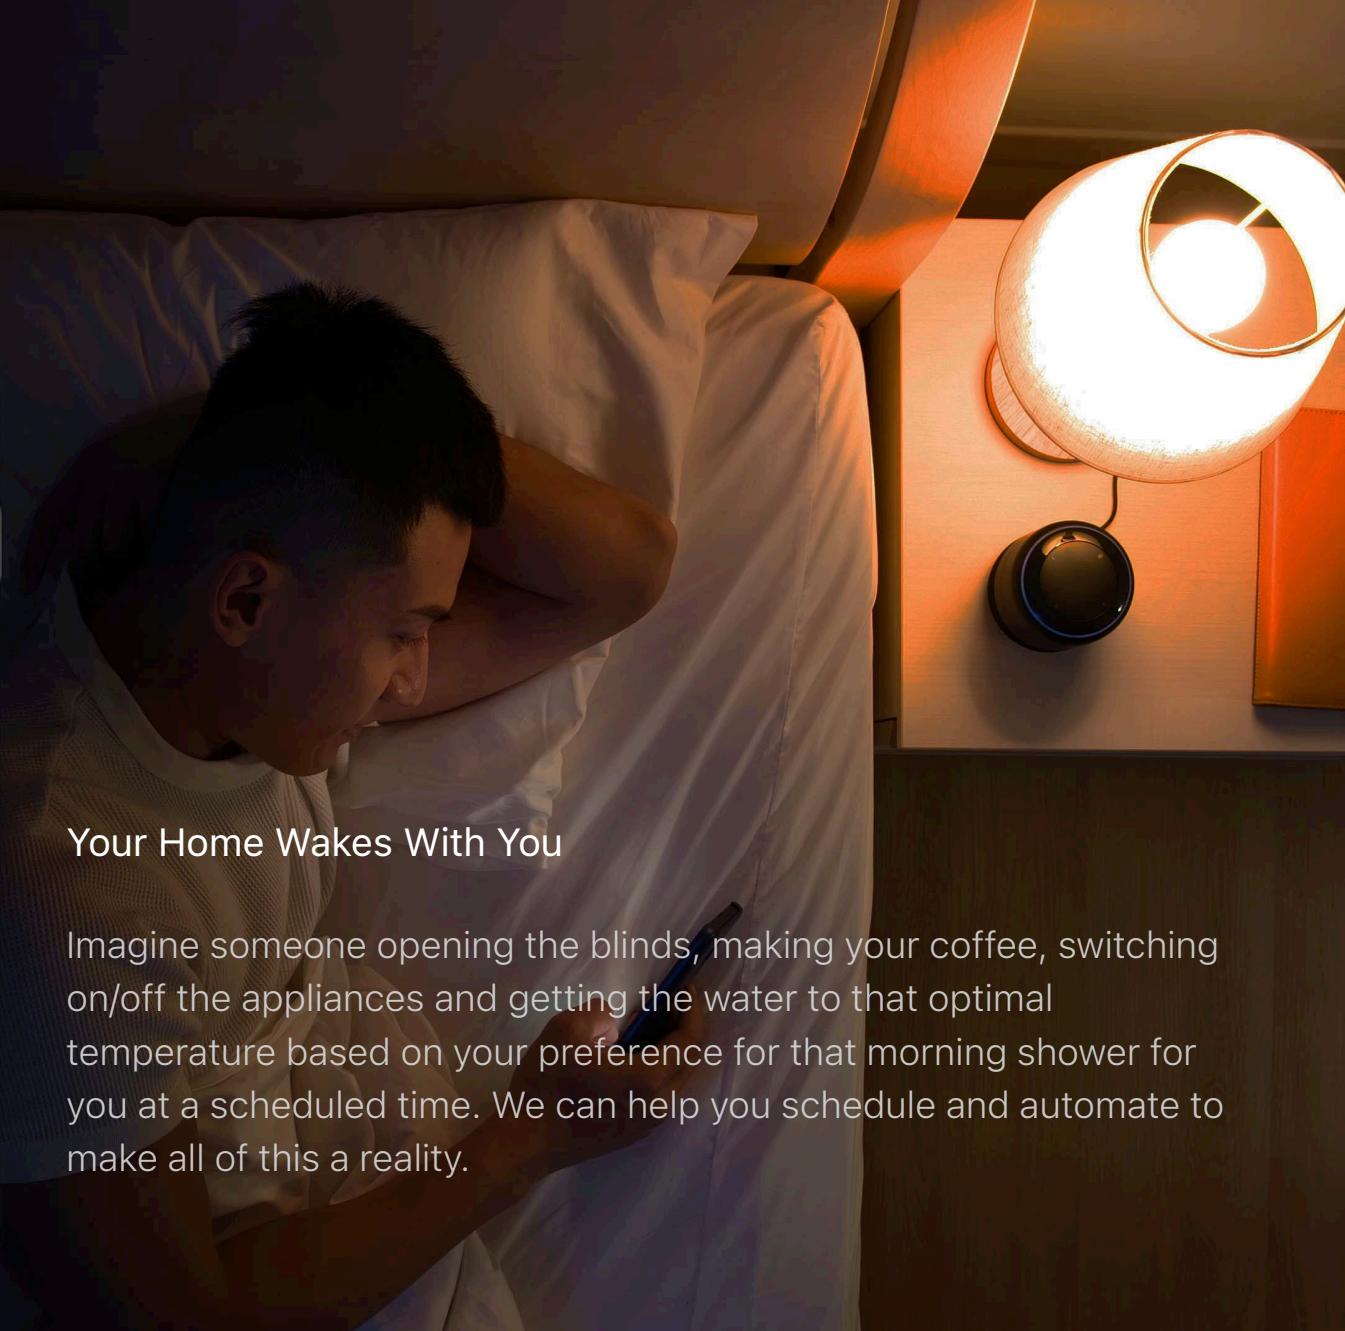

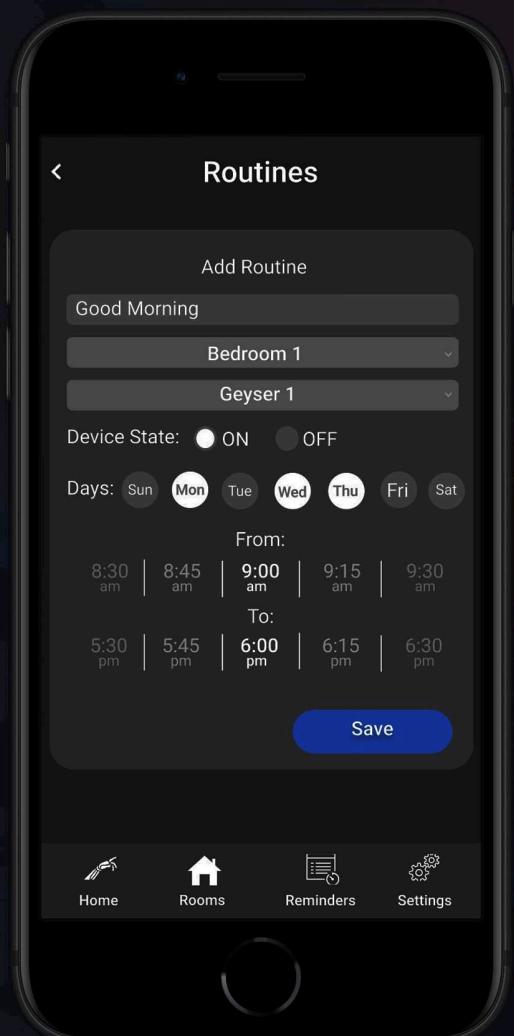

Automation With App

A universal control for everything at your fingertips. From climate to lighting control and entertainment to security of your home. Set everything to the way you want, from anywhere, anytime with our Euclid Home app.

Talk To Your Home

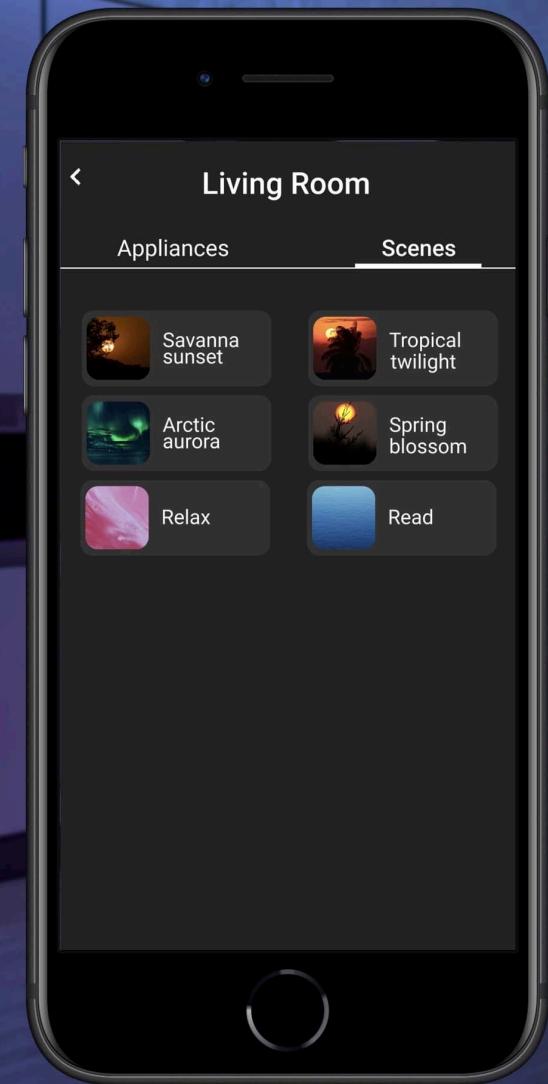

How convenient is "Khulja sim sim" for opening doors? Especially when you have a lot of things on your hands. We bring you this experience and more with Google Assistant and Amazon's Alexa where you can do all the above by just talking to your Euclid Home.

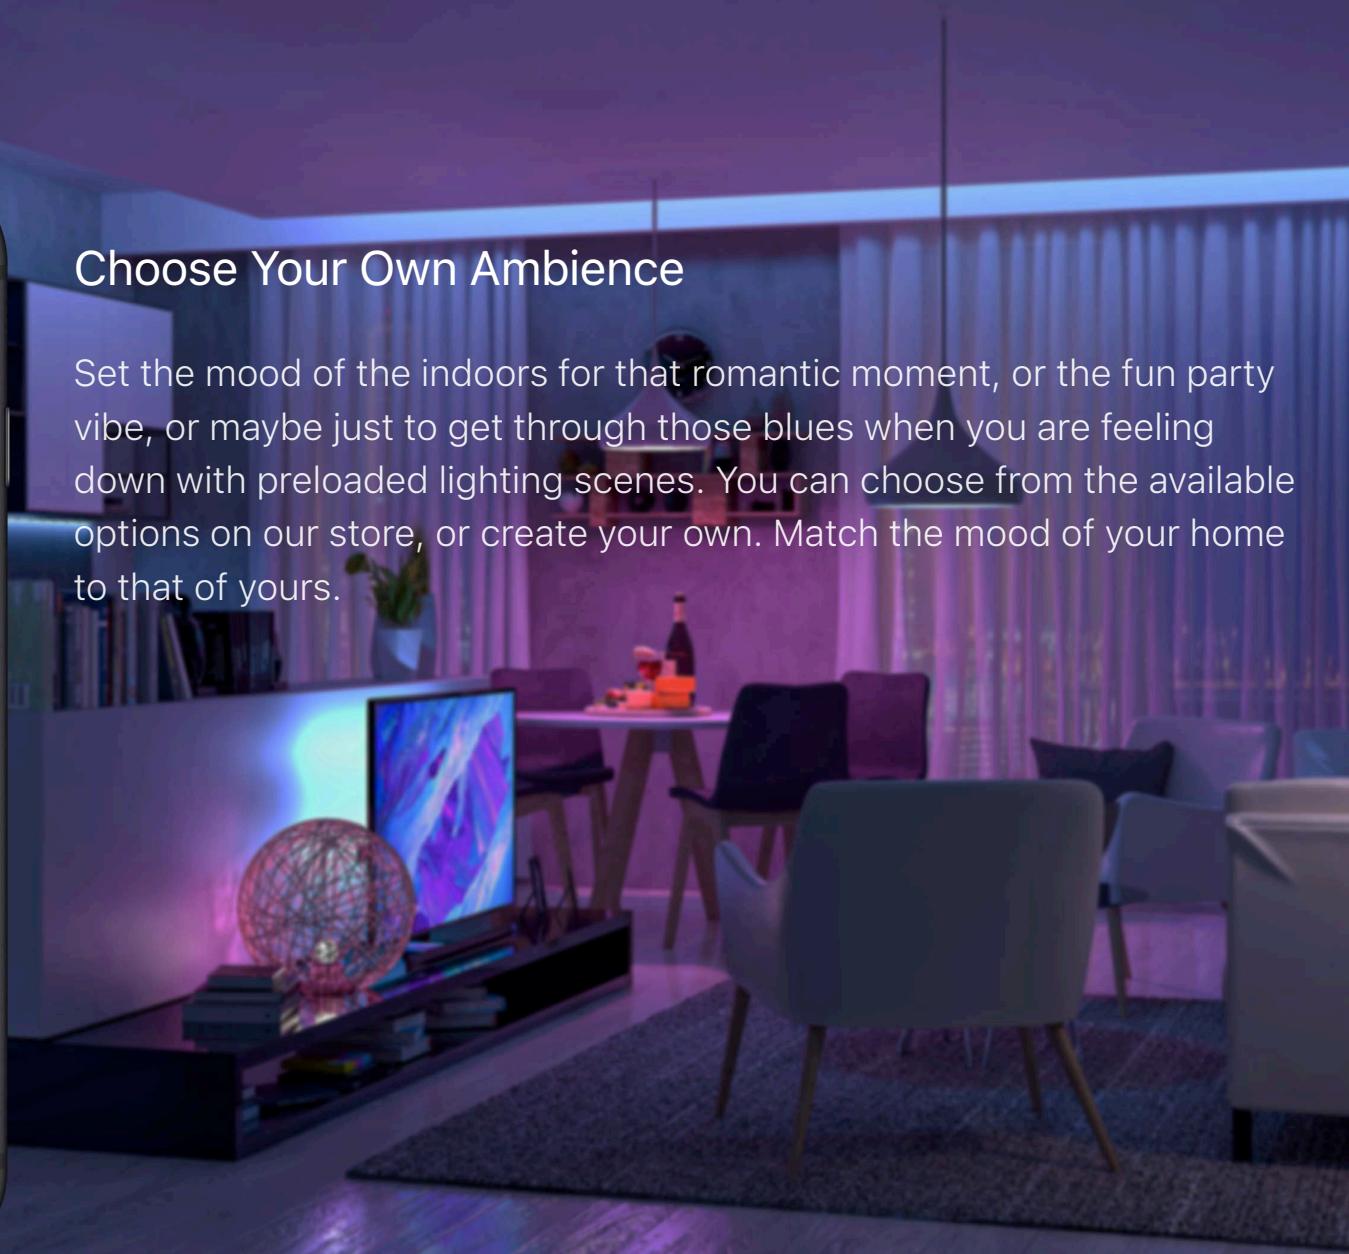

Your Home Wakes With You

Imagine someone opening the blinds, making your coffee, switching on/off the appliances and getting the water to that optimal temperature based on your preference for that morning shower for you at a scheduled time. We can help you schedule and automate to make all of this a reality.

Choose Your Own Ambience

Set the mood of the indoors for that romantic moment, or the fun party vibe, or maybe just to get through those blues when you are feeling down with preloaded lighting scenes. You can choose from the available options on our store, or create your own. Match the mood of your home to that of yours.

An Interface For Your Home

Touch is an interface for your home where everything connected to Euclid Home in your house can be accessed. Touch enables you to see who is at the front door, check in on your sleeping baby, or even change the ambience of your house. The future software updates of Touch would include features like automated bill payments through your Euclid Home wallet, ordering groceries for your home from the nearby grocery store.

Home With Reflexes

Would you like it if you don't have to control your appliances without even doing anything at all? Would you like it if the appliances talk to you through your presence? You can choose to customise and set up this feature in our app, our motion sensors will make it possible for you.

Euclid Home Security Systems

Euclid Home security includes monitoring systems which make it possible to monitor and control your home from anywhere at any time. Our system will trigger a notification if it detects any unusual activity.

Make Your Home Energy Efficient

Save the planet while keeping your wallet light with our energy efficient plans. Switch off the appliances that you are not using where we detect your activity in that area. We analyse your usage patterns and identify anomalies using our dashboard, customised to your preferences.

Controlled Access To Your Home

Euclid Home makes use of the most advanced electronic smart lock technologies to create an ultimate home security experience. Features like allowing users to choose whom the house should allow. Our one-time entry feature allows users to let guests into your home at your will.
